POLICE STATION INCIDENT

An official version of the incident at Mongkok Police Station on Tuesday night states that, shortly after 9 p.m., two Chinese dressed in civilian clothes entered a goldsmith's shop in that area and, after being handed some gold wear, one of them drew a revolver and decamped.

The other man was not able to make good his escape and was hit with a hammer in the shop. The man, in a dazed condition, was taken to the police station.

On the way, a crowd gathered and started throwing stones at the Police.

A member of the Royal Air Force patrol was hit by stones and thereupon another member drew his revolver and fired four shots, one of which hit one of the crowd in the leg. Some of the crowd were also injured by stones.

No shots were fired by the civilian police.

At the station, the crowd got bigger, and the police, assisted by Commandos, had a busy time trying to disperse the mob. More stones were thrown but the crowd was finally dispersed.

The injured man who claimed he was a member of the Chinese Army was taken to hospital and detained, and yesterday was handed over to the Chinese Military Authorities.

A Chinese military spokesman last night said that the man is now being held by the Chinese Government, who are investigating the case.

EX-SERVICEMEN SWINDLED

London, May 29.

Scotland Yard experts have started country-wide drives against suspected bogus company promoters, who are attempting to swindle ex-servicemen by offering directorships with salaried employment.

A check is to be made into the histories of all individuals registering new companies. Detectives recently raided the premises of suspected bogus promoters in North London.

The mass of documents taken to Scotland Yard revealed elaborate schemes to defraud ex-servicemen. There were hundreds of letters from ex-servicemen replying to advertisements offering directorships and salaried jobs in return for payment of several hundreds of pounds sterling.

A list of suspects is being compiled and a report of their activities is to be submitted to the Director of Public Prosecution.—Reuter.

Poland And Stalin

Warsaw, May 28.

The Polish delegation, headed by President Beirut, which has been holding conversations with Generalissimo Josef Stalin and other Soviet leaders, returned to Warsaw by air last night.

President Beirut, addressing cheering crowds, said the Moscow talks took place in a "cordial, friendly atmosphere seldom witnessed in international relations."

"During the talks a series of problems of great importance to the nation and reconstruction of the country were taken up," he added.—Reuter.

NO UNITED FRONT

More Rebuttals Of Speech By Soviet Foreign Minister

Chill Over Paris Conferences

(By HAROLD KING)

PARIS, MAY 29.

THE SPEECH BY THE SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER, M. MOLOTOV, CHARGING THE UNITED STATES AND BRITAIN WITH TRYING TO MAKE A UNITED FRONT AGAINST RUSSIA AT THE FOREIGN MINISTERS CONFERENCE HAS THROWN A CHILL OVER THE SUBSIDIARY CONFERENCE NOW TAKING PLACE IN PARIS AMONG THE DEPUTY FOREIGN MINISTERS OF THE FOUR POWERS.

"THE SOVIET MINISTER'S SPEECH WOULD APPEAR TO REMOVE ANY SHADOW OF DOUBT HERE THAT MAY HAVE BEEN THAT THE DEPUTIES COULD FIND AN AGREEMENT ON MAJOR ISSUES LEFT UNSOLVED BY THEIR CHIEFS," ONE DELEGATION OFFICIAL COMMENTED.

French official circles do not regard M. Molotov's speech as ruling out the possibility of agreement when the foreign ministers themselves meet again on June 17.

The French Foreign Minister, Georges Bidault, told a press representative today that the chances of the four ministers agreeing at their next meeting could not yet be estimated.

"New developments may occur between now and then," he added, "which will clarify the situation. However, the ministers' return to Paris, with a firm determination to arrive at an agreement on the problems left in suspense, will find a solution. The last word has not yet been said on Trieste and if the atmosphere is propitious at the next meeting, new propositions may be forthcoming and an agreement between the four powers is possible."

M. Bidault thought: "The affair of the Italian colonies is not insoluble either."

Views Closed

The May discussions had already brought the British and Soviet viewpoints closer together, he said, and if the United States were prepared to abandon their desire to fix a definite term for Italian trusteeship over Italy's former North African colonies the four ministers could re-examine the French proposal for the Italian colonies, with chances of success.

The French Foreign Minister said that France was not opposed to discussing peace with Austria separately from the German question.

"The division of Germany into two zones—eastern and western—recently proposed by the Anglo-American press, can in no case be considered a solution," stated M. Bidault, "but at best as an inevitable consequence of Europe being divided into two, after all efforts of an agreement between the victorious powers has failed."

M. Bidault said that he refused to envisage such failure.

Peace Conference

Regarding the calling of a peace conference, the French Foreign Minister hoped that the peace conference would be able to meet in Paris in July, as proposed by the United States Secretary of State, Mr. James Byrnes.

It was certainly desirable that an agreement between the four powers be reached beforehand, he thought, but at the same time, the conclusion of peace treaties could not be indefinitely postponed.—Reuter.

Byrnes' Rebuttal

Washington, May 29.

The Secretary of State, James Byrnes, denied today the statement of V. M. Molotov, Russian foreign commissar.

Byrnes reviewed Molotov's contentions point by point, and answered them with his own recollections of what occurred and with direct quotations from the record of the foreign ministers conference.

Byrnes denied the existence of an Anglo-American bloc which Molotov said was an offensive against Russia at Paris.

He said that during the truce Congress could study the whole field of worker and management relations.

This suggestion by Murray, who is chairman of the Senate Labour Committee, came before the Senate as it began its second day of debate of the House-passed legislation, authorizing the government to take over strike stricken facilities, providing jail terms for the leaders who declined to call off walkouts and making recalcitrant workmen subject to induction into the army.—Associated Press.

Agreed

Washington, May 28.

Settlement of the prolonged coal strike appeared imminent on Tuesday night as an informed official said the government and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers Union, had agreed on all major provisions of a new wage contract, needed before 400,000 miners returned to the pits.

Senator Lester Hill, Democrat, Alabama, told a reporter he had talked with parties on both sides and he understood that "all are in agreement on the principles for settlement."

"I am confident that unless something unforeseen occurs, the coal strike will be settled within the next 48 hours," he said.

Pending final signature, the agreement is still subject to possible changes, but a qualified informant said the new wage scale was expected to follow the pattern of an 18-1/2 cent increase in the basic hourly wage with overtime provisions.

Only one minor detail is said to be delaying the final settlement.—Associated Press.

LONDON DOCKS STRIKE

London, May 29.

An assurance that British food supplies are not in danger as a result of the strike, which stopped work on 20 ships at London docks, was given today by an official of the Port of London Authority.

"There is no threat to food supplies. Work is still going on aboard 44 ships," he said.

The strike involves between 3,000 and 4,000 stevedores, who have stopped working because employers have not restored the pre-war method of recruiting dock workers which allowed a dockworker to nominate his son for admission to the dockworkers register of workers.—Reuter.

"No Beer"

Middlesbrough, May 28.

Dockers, who staged a two-hour token strike because there was no beer for sale during their luncheon hour yesterday, were back at work today.

Officials of the Transport and General Workers Union said the men, having made their protest, were satisfied.—Reuter.

USED O.R.s. TO REPAIR HOUSE

London, May 29.

A letter from Field-Marshal Viscount Alexander, praising the service in both World Wars of Captain (Quartermaster) Arthur Ashton of the Irish Guards, was read at a London court-martial.

Captain Ashton has been under open arrest at the Tower of London. Charges included the theft of public property, using Army transport for private purposes and causing soldiers to do repairs to his house.

Of Captain Ashton, who pleaded guilty, Viscount Alexander wrote: "He was always extremely conscientious, honest and trustworthy and had the interests of the regiment and his job at heart."

Mr. R. P. Barry, defending, said: "These incidents were the one lapse which have caused Ashton deep humiliation. The trouble arose because he wanted to get his house in order. He had served in the Army for nearly 30 years."

The findings of the court will be announced later.—Reuter.

CHARTER OF INDIA'S FREEDOM

New York, May 29.

Devas Gandhi today called the new proposals of the British Government "the charter of India's freedom," which, he said, he believed in practice would work.

Speaking at a luncheon given by the India League of America, he said that "one of the greatest heroes of the war, Mr. Churchill, is one of the greatest leaders of India."

Gandhi added that he and Karamath Goenka, India news-paper proprietor were returning to India with the conviction that "America will be the greatest friend we have in the world. If necessary America is prepared to help us in a more material way."

Goenka said the war contributed greatly to the progress of India and he asserted that India will rank as one of the greatest nations in the world in five years.

The author, Miss Pearl Buck, declared, "My personal conviction is that as Russia rose new out of the last war, India will rise new after this one."

She said that in America was developing the keenest interest not only in political India but in India as a people.

"As she develops we will see an India known not only to Asia but to the West," Miss Buck declared.

The two Indians are planning to fly to London on June 1st.—Associated Press.

POLISH WAR DEBT TALKS

London, May 29.

Negotiations on the Polish war debt settlement between Treasury officials and the Chairman of the Polish National Bank are authoritatively expected to begin next Friday.

There have been various indications that the latest British proposals for a settlement are considered satisfactory by the Polish Government, and British official quarters in London are optimistic that the talks may be rapidly concluded.

If this be the case, £4,000,000 of Polish credits, which would remain if £3,000,000 is used for part payment of the Polish civilian debt, as proposed by Britain, would presumably be handed over at once to the Warsaw Government, together with £6,000,000 worth of military equipment.

If the British plan is accepted, re-payment of £10,000,000 of Polish civil debt would be started in five years' time.

The Moscow Radio recently attacked Britain for failing to repay Polish assets and has linked its criticisms with the Soviet decision to grant Poland long-term credits.

The fact is that the transference of Polish gold is only awaiting the completion of the debt settlement negotiations, which stand a chance of being concluded at the end of the week.—Reuter.

Officials said yesterday that the Abadan producing area and the airfield were being protected by sandbags and dykes.—Associated Press.

ARMY PAPER STAFF RESIGNS EN BLOC

Manila, May 29.

The entire staff of the "Daily Pacifican," the Western-Pacific Army newspaper, request a transfer to other duties, charging that they have been required by superiors to "twist, omit, bury and deceptively present news," so that the "Daily Pacifican" is no longer a "free and honest paper."

The staff declare that U.S. War Department directives relating to army newspapers are consistently violated by the AFWESPAC command.

A statement signed by the staff says that there has been increasing pressure to suppress all criticism of Government officials or agencies and stories have been killed which tend to satirize Officer and other ranks' relations.

The statement also charges that "Mail Bag," the columns of letters from GIs, was censored when the letters were critical of Army policy. It asserts that letters which requested that the writers' names be removed from the "Daily Pacifican" office by officers.

It continues that news stories pertaining to Philippine affairs were stricken out by orders from the "top," even after General Douglas MacArthur (Supreme Allied Commander) gave a statement on the Philippines' situation.

Other charges were:—

(1) That censorship not extended to American news agency stories was received by the "Daily Pacifican"

(2) That stories pertaining to demobilization were "killed" regularly.

(3) That cartoonists were likewise subjected to censorship, and gags and cartoons were deleted by a Colonel because they depicted officers as "puny-looking."

Commenting on the statement, Brigadier-General E. J. McGaw, assistant chief of staff of the Allied Forces in the Western Pacific's G-3, said: "Obviously such control is necessary as the 'Pacifican' is considered, and often quoted, as an official Army publication."—Associated Press.

London, May 29.

President Truman's call for anti-strike legislation was denounced as "naked" open Fascism, by James G. Patton, President of the National Farmers Union of America in a statement issued in London yesterday.

The Farm Union leader, who is in the British capital as a delegate to the international conference on agriculture, said: "The fact that the Bill now before the U.S. Senate carries a provision for the confiscation of profits of seized plant not in any way mitigate the additional fact that the Bill, for the first time in American history, proposes to use guns to coerce free citizens to work."

"Sorrowfully, and with the deepest emotion, the National Farmers Union of America must denounce President Truman's messages and speech in the settlement of the railway strike, and the Bill he has proposed, as naked, open Fascism."

"This is a shameful hour in American history. None of us had ever thought to see the day when a President of the United States would recommend imprisonment of free American citizens under threat of violence, or would see members of the House of Representatives, a body of free men elected by free men, vote in glo to force their fellow citizens to work under the bayonet."

FUTURE FORCES

A recruiting drive for the Services has become urgently necessary if, as the Prime Minister said in a special message issued the other day, we are to be able to fulfil our commitments both national and international. The aim is to secure the forces required by voluntary long-term enlistments; and, though a proper basis for success has been laid by the attractive conditions recently promulgated, it will be difficult to achieve. For the Army and Navy, the present rate of enlistment must be multiplied by six, and for the R.A.F. by eight. These figures show that better pay and prospects have not yet evoked more than a trickle of recruits and re-enlistments, though there may well be an improvement later when the present shine has been worn off civilian life.

No risks can, however, be taken in such a matter; and presumably none will be taken. The voluntary enlistments now required are, of course, for the regular forces, and any deficiency will be, and is being, made up by conscription. The more volunteers come forward, the shorter conscription service under the National Service Act will need to be. In any case enough long-service men to form substantial cadres in Services which have become so highly technical will have to be found. Efficiency must always depend on the quality of commissioned and non-commissioned officers; and if there is any fault in the new conditions it that relatively less has been offered to the former than to other ranks. All must therefore wish the new effort success. It is, of course, regrettable but inevitable that the Services must compete with industry in these times of man-power scarcity for the cream of the nation. It is also rather paradoxical that a Socialist Government should find itself compelled to advocate the strongest armed forces which this country has ever had in peace-time. But no party issue is involved. On the contrary, all responsible people must endorse and support the Government in its heavy responsibilities.

BODYLINE OVERTONE

"When Rockets became a somewhat more real menace the code-word was changed to Bodyline, which students of cricket will recognise as carrying an overtone of international unfairness. "Bodyline Bowling" (in American "beanball pitching") shook the British Empire when Australian stars first employed it to terrify English batters in international matches."

That, of course, was the series in which Douglas Bradman captained Australia and Don Jardine captained England.

U.S. LOAN TO FRANCE

Washington, May 28. The French and United States representatives in Washington today signed an agreement extending credits totalling $1,270,000,000 to France.

The Export and Import Bank approved the credit of $650,000,000 besides which the agreement established a credit of $720,000,000 for the purchase of surplus United States property and for goods supplied to France since the end of the war.

A joint statement in the name of President Truman and Felix Gouin, President of the French Government, said: "Discussions are taking place for an additional credit whereby France will acquire approximately 750,000 tons of merchant shipping owned by the United States Government."

"The United States Government will continue to assist France in securing adequate supplies of coal from Germany."

WHAT A LITTLE GENTLEMAN

By NATHANIEL
GUBBINS

"Sunday Express" Humourist

When I was a little boy I was taught to raise my cap to all women, "even charwomen," as if they were people apart and not strictly entitled to the courtesy.

It did me no harm to be polite, it gave the charwomen a laugh, and, as I was taught the trick by a woman, I looked upon it as part of the plot to impress the young male mind with the idea that there was something special and holy about women. But the plot failed. I never thought so then, and I certainly don't now.

I was also taught to precede women out of public and private vehicles, so that I should be ready to help the delicate creatures to the pavement or platform, to rise at their approach, to offer them my seat, to listen patiently to their conversation (it was always considered a hardship), to walk on the outside of the pavement, in case they fell under a hansom cab, to escort them home at any time of the day or night, and to protect them from any possible danger, either real or imaginary.

Incidentally, I was also taught never to accept gifts from strangers (or anybody if I could avoid it with courtesy), to give all money I found to the police, and never to tell a lie. Tell the truth, shame the Devil, and be damned to everybody who was the watchword of our little home.

Two results of the above injunctions were to offend a big-hearted baker by refusing the free gift of a sugary bun when I could have eaten a dozen, and to cause intense amusement and delight at a police station when I arrived there to surrender a shilling I had found in the gutter.

Dear was twopenny a pint then, and there were exactly six policemen.

I was disillusioned, too, regarding the rule about preceding women out of vehicles to assist their exit. On one occasion I tried to help a mountain of a woman out of a bus. Thanks to my officiousness she slipped, fell on top of me, and nearly crushed me flat. I was only ten.

But, apart from telling innumerable lies of convenience, I have kept strictly to all the other rules, especially the one about raising my cap (now hat) to charwomen.

And, thanks to the writer of a bright column in a newspaper, I know after all these years why I do it.

On this important subject she writes:

"Remember the story of the snobby little boy who, when asked by his mother why he did not raise his cap to the housekeeper as he passed her in the drive, replied, 'But, mummy, she is not a lady.' To which his mother answered, 'But, dear, you do not raise your hat because she is a lady. You raise your hat because you are a gentleman.' I see now that them char-ladies was no ladies, but what a little gentleman I were."

Ten Blind Spots In Modern Science

Ten major "blind spots" in man's scientific knowledge were listed at the first post-war meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

They are:

Longer Life: Scientists are seeking to develop drugs and surgery which will retard old age and permit the rejuvenation of senile bodies and minds. Degenerative diseases, such as cancer, heart and circulatory breakdowns, arthritis, and nephritis have yet to be conquered. Scientists believe that man should be able to live for 100 to 150 years with all his faculties.

Virus Conquests: Investigators have yet to discover the origin of infectious diseases, such as colds and infantile paralysis, which are caused by viruses.

Healthier Personalities: Medical research has yet to determine factors underlying mental illness, which take enormous tolls yearly. The relationship of physical, mental, and emotional aspects to insanity must be established.

Exploitation of the Elements: There are probably half a dozen new chemical elements yet to be discovered. Sources should be sought for elements important to mankind, but little used because they are scarce.

There is a possibility that additional particles yet unidentified may exist within the atomic nucleus.

Exploration of the Universe: A realistic study of the physical relationship of the sun, stars, and galaxies to the earth is needed. New research will probably be made by stratosphere rockets and superpowerful telescopes.

The Secret of Plant Life: Experiments which will throw light on the elusive problem of what makes plants grow must be extended. The main source of energy known today is the sun, whose radiation is converted by photosynthesis to give life to plants—a process science does not understand, and cannot duplicate in a factory.

The Secret of Protoplasm: It is known that the living cell is the seat of life. By breaking down the protoplasm scientists may explain life and its origin. Nuclear chemistry of the living cell promises to be more revealing than nuclear chemistry of the elements.

Automatism: Automatic devices must be applied to the factory, farm, office, and home to take over the burden of human drudgery.

Mobilisation of the World's Brainpower: Means must be discovered to organise and integrate the intelligence of different nationalities before a successful world organisation can be established. Science has the power to overcome the babel of languages and conflicting customs which have proved a barrier to global unity.

Psychological Warfare: In wartime, all the skill of propaganda and all the machinery of mass communications are devoted to mutual understanding among widely-separated Allies. This psychological warfare must be converted into peaceful psychological warfare.

"Card Fantasies," by Edward G. Love. (Exoma Press, 15s.)

The other day in a famous theatrical restaurant not 1,000 miles from Cambridge-circus I met George Robey, who produced out of his pocket three playing cards—the queen of clubs, the nine of hearts and the six of diamonds—all fanned together. He then turned the cards face downwards and asked me to choose one. I did, and it turned out to be a photograph of a beautiful lady.

No, reader, the story is not told to show that I lunch in fashionable restaurants and move on terms of intimacy with great comedians. The story has nothing to do with egotism. It is related in support of the view that brilliant and famous people exist who are fascinated by card manipulation—which happens to bore me stiff—and can spend a considerable part of a sentient being's life learning how to achieve the Giant Fan, Split Fan, etc.

That there are people who can read with passion: "The pack is then quickly squared, or riffled, down as in Waterfall Shuffle, and on re-fanning it will be seen that the cards are alternately red and black throughout the pack."

And: "I must give another warning—do not, if it can possibly be avoided, switch the fanning pack for another of a different kind with which you are to perform card effects."

I promise Mr. Love I won't. And let me say that as a practical guide to the expert execution of Carl Fara, Cut and Shuffles I cannot imagine a better book. End of review.

"Many A Watchful Night," by John Mason Brown. (Hamish Hamilton, 12s. 6d.)

John Mason Brown is a famous dramatic critic whose acquaintance I made in New York. I know many fascinating stories about J. M. B., but shall refrain from telling them since they all relate to his critical days, and would throw no light upon the book which he has written in his capacity as a famous and popular sailor. "Many A Watchful Night" begins on board the American battleship Augusta. It is the eve of D Day and the story opens:

We were watching the skies with an interest unknown to men reared in peaceful cities, where weather is a week-end worry. We were watching the grey skies, and the grey, choppy, rain-speckled waves around us.

And then the narrator interrupts himself:

No. This is wrong. This past tense is a lie. Battles are not faced or fought in the past tense. Men going into battle add it only one tense—the present. A suspenseful present it cause she is a lady. You raise your hat because you are a gentleman. I see now that them char-ladies was no ladies, but what a little gentleman I were."

is cut off, except in sudden flashes of memory, from what has been and with the future quiveringly unrevealed. So, for truth's sake, let's start out all over again. We are glancing intently at these choppy waves....

At church the day before each man had been handed a leaflet containing the reassuring words of the eighth verse of the 121st Psalm. "The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore."

On the same leaflet a short quotation from the Atlantic Charter, as to which J. M. B. has the note. "We, you see, felt we owned the Atlantic Charter just a little more than most mortals could claim to do, inasmuch as it was on the Augusta that the charter had been written." And then J.M.B.'s sense of humour puts in an appearance. He realises the hilarious inappropriateness of the final movie flashed on to the screen in the Junior Officers' Wardroom, Alfred Hitchcock's "Lifeboat."

Brown's duty was to tell the ship's company, and especially the men below decks, what was going on. "Because you are sailing into history is no reason for your sailing into the dark." And then follow the words: "We are headed for France, as you have guessed. To be specific, we are headed for the beaches in the Bay of the Seine, immediately to the east of the Cherbourg peninsula." The rest of the book describes what happened.

There is an interlude in which Brown describes a visit to Avon St. Lawrence. About Mr. Shaw:

Close up, his skin looked much as if the pink and blue periods of Picasso had been faintly transferred to alabaster. His eyes were at moments frosted by age.

They could, however, clear cloudlessly into the most animated nursery blue.

And then some of Mr. Shaw's table-talk: "Only the navy has no way of distinguishing between the sane and the insane. I know this because a friend of mine once took a ship across the Bay of Biscay. Even his crew knew he was mad when he crossed and recrossed the Bay five times without ever putting in...."

Then a lot about Mrs. Patrick Campbell, Stanley the explorer, and Shaw himself: "The historic Shaw, the man of my middle years, the Shaw the world will remember." Finally: "My actuarial expectancy is three days. As a matter of fact, I may die while you are sitting here. Death has no terrors for me."

And then the story takes up its wartime course again. This is a manly, honest, forthright and immensely well-written book.

"Death and the Dear Girls," by Jonathan Stagg. (Michael Joseph, 8s. 6d.)

There is a good deal of wit in this book. I like the school-girl who "picked up the violin of a school friend and discovered that she had a natural instinct for doing the right things with the right parts of the instrument." And I also like the American lady who spent several minutes telling Mr. Churchill how to win the war.

"Later, Mr. Churchill told me a trifle wistfully that if we could have dropped my wife by parachute behind the German lines in 1940 we would never have lost the Low Countries."

Yes, I like this thriller, and agree with the blurb: "Murder in the Hilton household was unthinkable, even preposterous."

"The Life of Jonathan Martin," by Thomas Balaton. (Macmillan, 10s. 6d.)

Jonathan Martin began life as a press-ganged sailor who fought at Copenhagen and frequently attempted to desert. He got religious mania, threatened to shoot the Bishop of Oxford escaped from an asylum, and finally set fire to York Minister, completely destroying the fourteenth-century woodwork, the roof of the choir, the sixty-six stalls, and the archbishop's throne, which, next to the superb windows, were the chief glory of the cathedral.

The author is of the opinion that the hero of his book was "a man of charm and sensibility." But suppose a man of this kind were to get it into his head that a lot of fun could be had with Henry the Seventh's chapel or the roof of Westminster Hall? Should we praise his charm and sensibility?

Surprise Arrests In Madrid

Madrid, May 28: Thirty-eight Spanish Republicans and seven Socialists have been arrested during the past few days, it was learned today. Their arrests have caused surprise in Madrid. Most of the Republicans belong to sections opposed to the Spanish Republican Cabinet-in-Exile headed by Dr. Jose Giral.

Senior Saville, one of them, is a veteran member of the Republican Government and is known for his moderate views. Another prominent Leftist escaped in time.

The arrested men were transferred from police headquarters to Madrid provincial prison today.

Meanwhile, Spain has sent a note to Allied diplomats here in Madrid indicating that she would receive with indifference any decision by the U.N.O. sub-committee considering the Franco regime.

This was stated today by the spokesman of the Spanish Foreign Office, Reuter.

BORMANN SURPRISE

Nuremberg, May 29: The mystery of Martin Bormann, Hitler's deputy, and the missing man of the 21 leading Nazis accused of war crimes, took a surprise turn today when his counsel announced that the woman who was with him to the very end could give evidence.

Bormann is being tried in his absence, though it is widely believed by the Allied authorities that he died in a last-minute bid to break out of the Red Army ring, round the Berlin Chancellery when a shell struck the tank near which he was crouching.

Bormann's counsel said today that Frau Else Kruger of Hamburg "can testify that in all probability Bormann fell on May 1, 1945, or that if he did not die from his wounds he must have fallen into the hands of the Soviet occupation authorities."—Reuter.

CHURCHILL CONDEMNS

London, May 29: Mr. Winston Churchill, in a message wishing success to Lieutenant C. H. Mullan, official Unionist candidate in County Down (North Ireland) by-election for a seat at Westminster, says: "A war aims, our world wide empire of self-governing nations stood at the pinnacle of its fame and prestige among the peoples of the world. In the months that have elapsed since the reins of government passed into the hands of the Socialist Party, our position and our influence upon world affairs have grievously declined."

"This government of timid yet dangerous zealots, not content with making wild experiments with the future of British industry, has now begun to liquidate our interests and our prestige all over the world. Only by watchful, persistent and undiminished opposition can the worst excesses of this minority socialist government be checked or abated. Ulster has never failed to keep the flag flying."—Reuter.

EQUIPPING FRENCH ARMY

London, May 28: Mr. Hector McNeill, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, stated in reply to a question in the House of Commons today that the British Government had supplied considerable equipment for the rearmament of the French metropolitan forces.

Negotiations were now in progress with the French Government with a view to the sale on favourable terms of further quantities of equipment.

The British Government had also equipped, on repayment, one full French division and a number of formations for the Far East.—Reuter.

LINER'S CREW AT PALACE

London, May 28: The crew of the Danish liner, "Frederick of Denmark," lunched today at Buckingham Palace.

It was an informal party, and the Queen and the two Princesses were also present.—Reuter.

Mr. Morrison Issues Warning

LONDON, MAY 29. BY 338 VOTES TO 184 THE HOUSE OF COMMONS LAST NIGHT PASSED A RESOLUTION APPROVING THE GOVERNMENT'S DECISION TO TRANSFER AN "APPROPRIATE SECTION" OF THE BRITISH IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY TO PUBLIC OWNERSHIP.

WINDING UP THE DEBATE, MR. HERBERT MORRISON, LORD PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL, SAID: "WE SHALL GO ON WITH THE SCHEME WHETHER THERE IS OPPOSITION OR NOT, BUT BOTH THE INDUSTRY AND THE GOVERNMENT WILL MAKE A BETTER JOB OF IT IF THERE IS A GOOD SENSE OF UNDERSTANDING AND COOPERATION ON BOTH SIDES."

The Government, Mr. Morrison said, believed it would be easier and more decisive to get the physical changes necessary in the industry under public ownership than the cartel, plus state control.

Replying to a question by Mr. R. A. Hudson (Conservative) as to whether the socialised undertaking would have any relationships with the cartel organisations overseas, Mr. Morrison declared that this would be a public concern and it would be its duty to do what was right in the public interests. The same answer was made to the question whether exports were to be subsidised.

Earlier in the debate Mr. Hudson had said that the British Iron and Steel Federation's plan for reorganisation of the industry was accepted by the Government, it would have had authority over the location of the industry, priorities, distribution and prices, as well as exports. What more possible control could anyone want, he added.

The result of today's vote was greeted with Government cheers and Labour Members sang the "Red Flag."

Best Example
Commander A. Duncan, (Conservative) and member of the Iron and Steel Federation, declared that if the Government would consult the industry they would satisfy themselves beyond any doubt that a system of control could be established to safeguard every public interest that wanted to be safeguarded. He said that the iron and steel industry was one of the best examples of public spirit in the industry. There had been no labour conflicts for over 40 years.

No major challenge had been made to the plans of the Iron and Steel Industry. The industry did not need money from the Government. Its own plans could be carried out 100 per cent by firms who subscribed to it and the suggestion, therefore, that there was no unity in the Federation did not apply.

Mr. Hugh Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer, stated that the open market rate of interest would be given to all public borrowing of the nationalised section of the steel industry and something only fractionally above that to any approved schemes in the private sector.

Mr. Dalton said that a large number of tin-plate mills in South Wales were a disgrace to their owners, and the Government would not buy this "old junk" for the State.—Reuter.

ANOTHER DEADLOCK

Berlin, May 29: The Allied control authority's coordinating committee were yesterday deadlocked on an American proposal to send a four-power commission into each of the four occupation zones to investigate the process of German disarmament.

It was not disclosed which power had blocked the investigation proposed by the American member, Lieut. Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

A spokesman said the committee would issue a communiqué after its next meeting and then reveal the stand taken by each power.—Associated Press.

MUSSOLINI'S BODY FLOWN OUT?

Rome, May 29: A dispatch to the Rome newspaper "Espresso" suggested today that a large air transport plane stolen from the Forlani airport near Milan on May 27, might have carried away Benito Mussolini's body, possibly to Spain.

Five men in flying suits, arriving 30 minutes before the regular crew, calmly warmed up the three-engine craft and took off.

Mussolini's body was stolen from an unmarked grave in Milan's cemetery on April 22 and has not since been traced.—Associated Press.

Secret Arab Conclave

London, May 28: The Rulers and Presidents of seven Arab States met in a secret conclave at the country estate of King Farouk of Egypt, 30 miles to the east of Cairo.

They talked for 2-1/2 hours. A personality in close touch with the Palace today said that the atmosphere has been friendly and cordial. Nothing was disclosed about the actual political discussions which took place.

Meanwhile, the British military authorities, it is believed, have issued instructions for the evacuation of Egyptian towns by July, according to a despatch from Cairo tonight.

Certain units of the Royal Navy at Alexandria are on the point of leaving for Malta and Cyprus.—Reuter.

Silence On The Morrison Case

WASHINGTON, MAY 29. PENDING THE EXPECTED STATEMENT ON THE QUESTION OF FOOD FOR INDIA AND GERMANY IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS TOMORROW FROM THE LORD PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL, MR. HERBERT MORRISON, THE BRITISH EMBASSY AND STATE DEPARTMENT HAVE MAINTAINED OFFICIAL AND APPARENTLY AGREED SILENCE ON THE "MORRISON CASE" IN WASHINGTON TODAY.

IT WAS CONFIRMED AUTHORITATIVELY, HOWEVER, THAT A MUTUALLY SATISFACTORY "CLARIFICATION" ON THE REMARKS OF MICHAEL MACDERMOTT, WHITE HOUSE SECRETARY, AND THE AMERICAN POSITION OF FEEDING THE BRITISH ZONE IN GERMANY AND INDIA, WAS REACHED IN CONVERSATIONS YESTERDAY BETWEEN THE BRITISH MINISTER IN WASHINGTON, MR. ROGER MAKINS, AND THE UNITED STATES ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE, MR. WILLIAM CLAYTON.

It was also learned that the State Department has privately conceded that the statement by MacDermott, who is a special public relations assistant to the Secretary of State, Mr. James Byrnes, was based on an incomplete and possibly garbled version of Mr. Morrison's remarks. There was no intention, however, of formally withdrawing MacDermott's assertion that the United States Government has assumed no specific commitments on the feeding of the two vital areas concerned, it was further learned.

That the United States has made no definite commitments is partially confirmed by the statement from the British food mission that the wheat allocations for June have not yet been fixed by the Combined Food Board.

In the case of the British zone, it is learned that a request will be made for sufficient supplies to maintain a 1,000 calory daily level as well as to replenish the area's stocks which are dangerously low.

June Availabilities

In the case of India, the June allocation is not expected to reach the 500,000 tons asked for but it will be more than 264,000 tons, which was India's original May allocation.

Not all surplus countries have reported their June "availabilities" yet but definitely word is expected by the end of the week.

The June allocations will be made by the old Combined Food Board and not by the new twenty nation International Emergency Food Council, just created by the Food and Agriculture Organization.

Much of the June allocations, it is considered, will have to come out of American supplies.

Transport
Officials of the Department of Agriculture said that they were preparing a report show-

MacArthur Asks For Advice

Tokyo, May 29: The four-power Allied Council for Japan will be asked officially tomorrow for the first time by General MacArthur for comment on occupation problems.

Heretofore all the Allied delegates have been interrogators, querying SCAP's representative on various phases of the occupation.

Tomorrow, council members will be asked for their views on the disposition of Japanese government property, rural land reform and resumption of relations between Japanese labour organisations and those in other countries.

MacArthur's request for comment is occasioning much speculation which seems to boil down to the question: Is SCAP prepared to assign a greater share of importance to the Council as he proceeds with direction of the occupation?

Under the terms of the Moscow communique establishing the allied council, SCAP will consult with the group before issuing orders on "matters of substance" if the situation permits. Tomorrow's agenda entries could well be classified "matters of substance," land reform and labour being two of the most debated topics in Japan.—Associated Press.

REFUGEES TO POLICE GERMANY

Shanghai, May 29: Sixteen lucky Jewish refugees, picked from thousands of applicants in China, are eagerly awaiting the plane which will take them back to Germany to serve on Allied police forces in the occupation zones.

Notices in local papers that Allied Headquarters were seeking Jewish recruits from Shanghai for police jobs, brought a flood of applications from all over China.

The American Consulate-General had the task of sorting the grain from the chaff. Due to refugee anxiety and uncertainty over future Chinese policy towards them (the Foreign Office has stated that it will repatriate all but a few German and Austrian Jews), thousands, qualified and unqualified, sought positions.

They calculate that since they may be repatriated anyhow, they may as well go to good jobs. The attractive salaries (up to $30 a month), double rations, and other favourable conditions of service, were an added inducement.

Required qualifications were previous experience in police work and a sound political background. Many Jews joined the former international police force of Shanghai on arriving here from Europe before the war, and thus obtained wide experience of cosmopolitan police problems.—Reuter.

TWO WORLD ECONOMIC BLOCS?

Washington, May 29: Mr. McChesney Martin, President of the Government Export and Import Bank, declared today that it is entirely up to Russia whether two world economic blocs develop in contending for trade.

Martin told the House of Representatives Banking Committee now holding hearings on the proposed British loan, "I do not subscribe to the idea of two world economic blocs. There will be no attempt to exclude Russia from world trade. It is entirely up to her."

Mr. Fred Vinson, Secretary of the Treasury, had previously told the Committee that he thought the loan would mean, for a while, two world blocs, of England and America on the one hand, and Russia on the other.

On the loan itself, Mr. Martin said: "It would be a very serious setback to world peace if this loan is not made." He expressed the opinion that the loan would tend to retard socialisation of industry in Britain.—Associated Press.

BABY DEATHS ENQUIRY

New York, May 29: An Army Board of Enquiry has absolved the medical staff of the bride ship "Sebulon B. Vance" of "negligence or misconduct" in connection with the deaths of eight GI babies who succumbed soon after the ship's arrival here on May 19 from Le Havre.

The number of infant deaths rose during the week 10 as the port of embarkation announced the receipt of a radiogram from the transport "John Ericson" (due to arrive here on May 30 from Southampton) advising that a baby died on board ship, apparently from suffocation. The vessel also reported three other infants seriously ill.—Associated Press.

U.S. OFFER TO DENMARK

Washington, May 29: The United States has offered to train Danish personnel in the operation of radar and weather stations in Greenland and the Faroe Islands in order to be sure of their continuance after American forces withdraw, it is disclosed.

In the meantime, American officials are seeking Danish permission to maintain the stations temporarily in an effort to prevent their deterioration until sufficient crews have been trained, in order to continue the operations considered essential for Transatlantic air services.—Associated Press.

DEFENCE: "PERSECUTION, NOT PROSECUTION"

A PROBATIONARY SUB-INSPECTOR OF POLICE, WONG WING-TIM (ALIAS THOMAS TIM WONG) FORMER AGENT OF THE BRITISH ARMY AID GROUP, WHO HAD GIVEN EVIDENCE AT THE TRIAL OF LAI KIT FOR HIGH TREASON IN THE SUPREME COURT THE DAY BEFORE, WAS RE-ARRESTED AT KOWLOON COURT YESTERDAY A FEW MINUTES AFTER BEING DISCHARGED BY THE MAGISTRATE ON A CHARGE OF MISCONDUCT AS A POLICE OFFICER.

He APPEARED AGAIN BEFORE MR. W. H. LATIMER A FEW MINUTES LATER WHEN MR. M. A. DA SILVA, WHO HAD DEFENDED HIM IN THE CASE JUST CONCLUDED AND WHICH HAD OCCUPIED THE WHOLE OF THE DAY'S SITTING, ASKED FOR BAIL IN A NOMINAL SUM, SUBMITTING THAT THE FACTS OF THE CASE HAD BEEN KNOWN TO THE CROWN FOR SEVERAL MONTHS. MR. DA SILVA ASKED WHY THE CROWN, HAVING FAILED IN TWO CASES AGAINST THOMAS WONG, HAD BROUGHT HIM UP ON A THIRD CHARGE. MR. DA SILVA SUBMITTED THAT THE CROWN WAS PERSECUTING RATHER THAN PROSECUTING WONG.

In dismissing Wong on the charge of misconduct in that he had, with others who were not police officers, plotted an investigation and had represented himself as an officer of the Special Branch, Mr. Latimer remarked that the Court could not appreciate how a man who was not a police officer could be charged with misconduct, unbecoming to a police officer.

Mr. Latimer said also that there was no doubt in his mind that throughout the trial the defendant had been a good man, and if further evidence were needed to support this, he would refer to the fact that Wong had been called by the Crown to give evidence in the High Court.

Mr. Latimer said for the Crown, submitted that bail on the new charge should be allowed at $500. Mr. Wong said that he would not give bail at $500, but at $250. He said that he was not a police officer, and that he was not a police officer, and that he was not a police officer.

In granting bail of $250, Mr. Latimer said that he would fix bail at this figure and no more or less. Wong was then taken to Central Police Station to be charged.

When Wong was brought again before the Magistrate some minutes after the conclusion of the police court case on a charge of misconduct as a police officer, Mr. Smith addressed the Magistrate, saying: "This is purely an application to fix the amount of bail. The accused has only been arrested; he has not been charged. The question before Your Worship is purely one of direction. The charge is to be laid under the

NOT GUILTY

Found not guilty by a unanimous verdict of the jury, Kwok Yik-wan was acquitted by Police Judge T. J. Gould at the Criminal Sessions yesterday of a charge of armed robbery.

Leung Wai, alias Leung Cheong, was sentenced to three years' hard labour for receiving stolen property. A charge alleging that he had committed the robbery was dismissed by the Judge upon the returning of a verdict of not guilty by the jury.

The jury was composed of Messrs. G. Trynasterna (Foreman), V. B. Cherikoff, E. Foulard, C. F. X. Marcel, Li Kan, C. M. de la Xaviera, and A. Sadie. Mr. E. H. Sainsbury, Crown Solicitor, prosecuted. Mr. C. Y. Kwan appeared for Kwok and Mr. Peter Sin for Leung.

WEDDING

Da Motta-Zimmer

Mrs. Catherine Margaret Zimmermann became the bride of Mr. Victor Jose da Motta at a pretty ceremony at Rosary Church, Kowloon, yesterday. Father H. de Angelis officiated.

The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Capt. W. Zimmermann, is the daughter of Mrs. Aida Zimmermann and the late Mr. Edward Spencer Zimmermann, while the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. da Motta. His best man was Mr. R. A. E. Watson.

The bride, whose best man was Mr. A. J. da Motta, presented a charming picture dressed in a gown of white tulle and carrying a nosegay of dahlias. She was attended as bridesmaid by little Georgina McDougall, who was dressed in a powder blue ecru and white dress, and carried a nosegay of African daisies.

After the ceremony a reception, attended by over 60 friends of the happy couple, was held at 112 Austin Road.

Five local and two imported cholera cases were reported to the authorities in the week ended May 26. There were also ten cases of cerebro-spinal meningitis, one of altharthritis, and six of small-pox.

B.A.T. EMPLOYEE SOUND OVER

Fung Cho Leung, an employee of the British American Tobacco Co., was bound over by Mr. George She yesterday when charged with larceny of 12 ozs. of leaf tobacco from the B.A.T. Godown, Gloucester Road, on May 28.

Accused said he had been with the B.A.T. for 20 years and he pleaded that the illness of his wife had forced him to steal. He was only earning $2.80 a day.

H.K. LABOUR SITUATION

Draft rules and constitution of a joint labour union committee were considered at a meeting of representatives of ten labour unions held at the Chinese Engineers Institute on Tuesday evening.

No definite decision was arrived at, as the representatives had to report back to their respective unions, but an agreement in principle was reached.

Yesterday morning representatives of the ten labour unions called on the Labour Officer and explained to him the objects of the proposed new organisation.

Their views on the present strike at the Hong Kong Electric Company's power plant were also given, and they urged the Labour Officer to do his utmost to bring about an early settlement.

There was no meeting between representatives of the strikers and the Hong Kong Electric Co. yesterday, but it is understood they are to meet today to re-open negotiations for a settlement of the dispute.

The case in which Li Chi-man and Li Kwan-shing are charged with attempting to export 10,000 lbs. of flour, has been fixed by Mr. C. Y. Kwan for hearing at 2.30 p.m. on June 10.

For larceny of pigs' trotters from the Dairy Farm, Lee and Cold Storage Co., Ltd., at Yee Wo Street on May 27, Chan Kiu was yesterday sentenced to six weeks' hard labour by Mr. George She.

REVOLVER LUCKILY MISFIRED TWICE

THE STORY OF A REVOLVER WHICH LUCKILY FAILED TO GO OFF WAS TOLD BEFORE MR. GEORGE SHE AT THE CENTRAL MAGISTRACY YESTERDAY AFTERNOON, WHEN LAI MING, CHAN CHI, LEUNG LAM AND CHAN MING WERE COMMITTED FOR TRIAL AT THE NEXT CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

The charges against accused are: 1st. and 2nd. accused: Shooting with intent to evade arrest and possession of arms without a permit.

3rd. accused: Possession of arms without a permit.

4th. accused: Aiding and abetting the possession of arms without a permit.

Inspector of the Crown, Li Ming, Chinese Police Constable No. 171, testified that while on duty in Connaught Road West near the Sai Kung Wharf on May 4, he received information which led him to shadow first and second accused.

I followed them till they reached Queen Street, where they separated, walking on opposite sides of the road. I stopped second accused and searched him. I told him I was a policeman and that I suspected he had arms.

"Accused immediately produced a Mauser from underneath his jacket and pointed it at me. I waved off the pistol with my left hand and with my right hand prevented accused from using it. Accused held the pistol with his right hand.

From Behind

"While I was struggling with second accused, first accused came from behind, holding a revolver with the intention of shooting at me. I distinctly heard the revolver click twice. First accused was about a foot away from me.

"It was not dark at the time. I had a good view of first accused. I had a good view of first accused. I had a good view of first accused. I had a good view of first accused.

"I overpowered second accused and took the pistol away from him. I then took him to No. 7 Police Station and the revolver was handed over to Inspector Saul. He examined it in my presence. It contained 9 rounds of ammunition."

Uncle Tried To Take His Place In Prison

Before Mr. C. Y. Kwan yesterday, Wong Fuk was charged with attempting to escape from prison. Huen Hing was charged at the same time with aiding and abetting the attempt.

Wong Fuk, who was recently sentenced to six months' imprisonment for unlawful possession of 10 dance tickets belonging to Sum Ling-lin, China Emporium Ballroom dance hostess, attempted to evade the sentence by arranging with his uncle, Huen Hing, who had been sentenced to two weeks' imprisonment, to take his place.

While on the way to prison, they arranged to assume each other's name, and the plan would have succeeded but for the fact that when a check-up of fingerprints was made, it was found that there was some mistake. Wong Fuk explained to Mr. Kwan that he had a large family to support and that Huen Hing had agreed to undergo his (Wong Fuk's) sentence in order that he might be released from prison earlier and thus be in a position to support his family. Huen Hing corroborated Wong Fuk's story.

Both pleaded for leniency. Mr. Kwan pointed out that this attempt to defeat the end of justice did not merit any sympathy. As Wong Fuk was the prime mover he would be sentenced to six months' imprisonment, and Huen Hing to three months' imprisonment, both sentences to commence from the date of completion of the sentences already imposed.

PIGS SOLD

Wong Hoi, charged with keeping swine on the balcony of No. 154 Island Road without a licence from the Urban Council, was fined $50 by Mr. George She yesterday.

The pigs were ordered to be castrated and sold—the proceeds of sale to go to the Poor Box.

Li Kin-hing, charged with unlawful possession of one .22 Cal. automatic on the hillside near "H" Block, 28 Indian General Hospital, on May 28, was yesterday remanded for one week for further enquiries to be made.

Better Transmitters For Station ZBW

THE COLONY'S ORIGINAL BROADCASTING TRANSMITTERS WERE DESTROYED BY THE JAPANESE BUT IN THE EARLY DAYS OF THE REOCCUPATION EUROPEAN AND CHINESE PROGRAMMES WERE KEPT GOING ON SMALL TRANSMITTERS OF LOW POWER AND INFERIOR QUALITY.

IN ANTICIPATION OF THIS, NEW TRANSMITTERS HAD BEEN ORDERED IN ENGLAND. THEY HAVE NOW BEEN INSTALLED BY THE TELECOMMUNICATIONS DEPARTMENT, AND, HAVING PASSED THROUGH THEIR TESTS, ARE BEING PUT INTO REGULAR SERVICE FOR THE COLONY'S PROGRAMMES AS FROM THIS EVENING.

WARNING TO MOTORISTS

Since the reoccupation many of the Traffic Regulations restricting the use of motor vehicles have been in abeyance, mainly because of shortage of Police personnel to enforce them.

The number of vehicles on the road has been comparatively small and non-compliance with the Regulations has not done much harm or caused much inconvenience and obstruction.

The time has come however for the Police to enforce some of these regulations. Many roads are closed to motor traffic e.g. Kennedy Road east of the Magazines, Wynham Street, from the Dairy Farm to Queen's Road, Battery Path and Old Bailey, Ice House Street between Des Voeux Road and Queen's Road is closed to traffic between 8.30 a.m. and 6.00 p.m.

Parking is prohibited in parts of certain roads and serious obstruction is caused by cars parked in places such as Des Voeux Road between Ice House Street and Pedder Street. Parking in this area is permitted in centre of Pedder Street, Chater Road, Connaught Road. It is to be noted that parking in Pedder Street, between Des Voeux and Queen's Roads, Chater Road between Ice House and Pedder Streets and Connaught Road between Pedder and Pottinger Streets is limited to two hour periods during the day and to owner driven cars not exceeding 15 ft. in length.

GIRL GUIDES ACTIVITY

The Fifth Kowloon Company (St. Mary's School) has restarted under the captaincy of Miss Marie Figueiredo and during the last few months all its meetings have been very well attended.

Meetings are held every Thursday at St. Mary's School at 5.45 p.m. and all interested and wishing to attend are requested to go in touch with Miss M. Figueiredo (Tel. 33333) during office hours.

For carrying 62 excess passengers, Li Chik-ching, junk-master, was fined $200 by Comdr. A.S.D. Ryder in the Marine Court yesterday. Li's junk was boarded by S.I. Blackhurst off West Point on Tuesday when bound for Macao. The passengers were charged $8 each. S.I. Rawlins prosecuted.

Readers' Letters

Price Control

Sir,—Your opinion as expressed in the last paragraph of the editorial of the 28th instant is very much to the point. Yes, we need control of prices of all necessities, not merely a few commodities. All essential foods must be controlled. We have to eat, that is paramount. Clothing and housing come next.

I understand that retail price index in the U.S.A. for foods is about 40 per cent above pre-war level: what happens here? The other day, "Aitchy" in a letter to you asked why fish etc. retailed so much higher than the original cost. Something can be done in the "between." Some also suggested a co-operative society, this is a very good idea. Why not let the salary-men associate themselves in such a co-operative society?

To keep cost of living down is much better than subsidising. The latter is in a controlled circle: inflation calls for further raising of prices.

As the voice of the Public, the newspapers must act as a medium. Every good citizen must for his own benefit demand control of prices.

Answers To Correspondents

P.O. Mess: The answer to the question is definitely "Yes." The law which establishes the principle that a man cannot be tried twice for the same offence is not applicable to the circumstances related, for the simple reason that it was not the same offence. If the basic argument was supportable at all, a third person could have done the "second" killing, and made use of a similar plea, which would obviously be absurd.—Ed.

The sixth in the series of Swing Music Concerts will be given tomorrow night at 7.15 p.m. These concerts have now become a very popular feature of entertainment for the Forces and all have been well attended. "NEWFOUNDLAND" IN NANKING

A 21-gun salute was fired by H.M.S. Newfoundland when the ship arrived at Nanking yesterday wearing the flag of Adm. Lord Fraser, C-in-C, British Pacific Fleet, who is making a farewell visit.

The cruiser ran aground in the Yangtze on Monday evening, while en route from Woosung to Nanking, but was later refloated with the assistance of a salvage vessel sent from Swatow.

H.M.S. Newfoundland arrived at Nanking in company with the destroyers Hogua and Lagos.

Charged yesterday with keeping an opium den at No. 1 East Street, 1st floor, Ng Lin was fined $400.00 or one month's imprisonment. Two lamps, two pipes and five pots of prepared opium seized at the time of the raid were ordered by Mr. C. Y. Kwan to be confiscated.

Giant Carriers "Cancelled"

London, May 29. The Admiralty has reported the cancellation of orders for three 30,000-ton aircraft carriers, which, a spokesman said, will not be needed now that the war is over. He said the action was decided upon several months ago. The three projected ships to be named Gibraltar, Malta and Africa would have cost at least U.S.$32,000,000 each. Informed sources said that improved types of fleet aircraft carriers were still being considered, in addition to the new Ark Royal class. —Associated Press.

Woman Stripped, Tied To A Ladder

EVIDENCE AS TO HOW LAI KIT (CHARGED WITH 12 OVERT ACTS OF HIGH TREASON) HELPED TWO JAPANESE TO APPLY THE WATER TORTURE TO HER WAS GIVEN BY MISS MUI SIU-HING, A SUB-AGENT OF THE B.A.A.G., AT THE RESUMED HEARING BEFORE THE ACTING CHIEF JUSTICE, MR. JUSTICE E. H. WILLIAMS, AT THE SUPREME COURT YESTERDAY.

SHE TOLD THE COURT THAT AFTER HER ARREST IN JUNE 18, 1945, SHE WAS TAKEN TO A HOUSE IN KIMBERLEY ROAD, WHERE SHE WAS ASKED TO PRODUCE THE B.A.A.G. CERTIFICATE OF HER COUSIN, WONG WING-TIM. AS SHE COULD NOT PRODUCE THIS, SHE WAS TAKEN INTO A ROOM WHERE SHE WAS TIED TO A LADDER AFTER BEING STRIPPED OF HER CLOTHING.

Accused stood on her right side and covered her face with a towel. The two Japanese poured water on to her.

On another occasion she was questioned by accused alone. He threatened to give her the water torture again, pointing to a bucket of water in the room. If she still refused to produce the certificate.

On July 1 she was transferred to Stanley, where she was subjected to the water torture again. She could not stand this any longer and confessed she had given information to her cousin regarding the number of puppet Nanking banknotes (C.R.B.) printed by the Chung Hwa Book Company as well as giving him information on shipping activities in the Kowloon Dockyard.

In December, 1945, she was brought before a Japanese military court and sentenced to three years' imprisonment as a spy. After the war, she went to Stanley and identified the accused.

Detective Inspector Wong Lau, said that after the Japanese occupation he was forced to act as a detective in the Japanese Gendarmarie for about 10 months, after which succeeded in resigning from the post on the grounds of "illness and advanced age."

After staying in Hong Kong for two and a half years during the Japanese occupation, he managed to leave the Colony with the permission of the Japanese authorities.

Easy To Get Out

William Lee, clerk in the Naval Dockyard, said that he was a B.A.A.G. agent who travelled between Hong Kong and Waichow. He did not encounter any difficulty leaving the Colony, though he did encounter some hardships getting into Hong Kong.

The Japanese did not take any precautions against persons leaving Hong Kong, and anybody could quit the Colony if he really determined to do so.

Capt. Chan, of the War Crimes Investigation Team, said that he was a B.A.A.G. agent during the war. Witness identified two charts as his work. One related to the Japanese police and gendarmarie organising system and the members of their staff between December, 1941 and January, 1945. The other related to the similar period between February and August, 1945—i.e. upon the reorganisation of the Japanese Gendarmarie and Police in Hong Kong in February, 1945.

Major Hiroo Yoshio, former Commanding Officer of the Kowloon Japanese Gendarmarie, said that there was a special branch in the Gendarmarie devoted to political cases. Members of this branch did not do the same work some were detailed for counter-espionage work while others were assigned to drive away guerrillas.

Witness said that he knew a man by the name of Lai Kit. Before the British authorities took into the case of Lai Kit, he had neither met nor talked with him. The case was adjourned to 10 a.m. today.

MANCHURIA TRUCE TALKS

Nanking, May 29. A delegation of the Democratic League arrived from Shanghai yesterday to open talks with the Government and the Communists over the expected Manchuria truce.

Doctor Carson Chang, the League leader, told the Associated Press upon his arrival that "we are very hopeful of a peaceful settlement." He added that the all-party unity talks would be resumed as soon as the Manchurian trouble is out of the way. He described the Manchurian fighting "as a shame on the Chinese people made worse by the existence of famine."

Meanwhile, Shao Lit-ze, liberal Kuomintang member, told the Associated Press he was convinced that peace would be restored soon in Manchuria through a truce between the Communists and the Government. —Associated Press.

Co. Meeting

China Entertainment & Land Investment

A dividend of $1 per share was declared at the 12th annual general meeting of shareholders of the China Entertainment & Land Investment Co., Ltd. (owners of King's Theatre and King's Theatre Building) held yesterday at the Company's registered office.

Sir Shouson Chow, Chairman of Directors, who presided, explained that the working for the 3½-month period since the re-occupation (15.9.45 to 31.12.45) yielded a net profit of $88,918.34. Net profit for 1941 was $15,694.61. Accounts for the period of the Japanese occupation (1.1.42 to 14.9.45) were kept in Military Yen, and a summary thereof was submitted to shareholders. The balance in Military Yen was converted into Hong Kong notes.

After extending a welcome to the shareholders present, the Chairman said that it was not possible to hold any meeting during the past five years owing to the Japanese occupation. He paid tribute to the hard work of his fellow Directors and the staff who, he said, carried on under untold difficulties through a period when they were often harassed by the Japanese authorities; and it was due in no small measure to their tact and courage that the Company's interests had not suffered beyond what was unavoidable.

Reference was made by Sir Shouson Chow to the Allied bombing of Hong Kong on January 16, 1945, when a bomb falling on Shell House demolished two floors. It was a close shave for King's Theatre Building, he said, which got off with only slight damage to its theatre equipment.

Supporting Sir Shouson Chow in the chair were Dr. S. W. Ts'ao and Messrs. Liang Chi-hao, Choy Wai-hung, Lee Lin-chi, Chan Kwai-lin, Chan Kwai-cheong, Chan Kwai-on and Chang Kwai-yeung (Directors) and Mr. George S. K. Sun, Director and Secretary. Mr. Chan Kwai-cheong and Mr. Chang Kwai-yeung who retired by rotation, were re-elected to the Board.

Messrs. Percy Smith & Co. were re-appointed auditors of the Company.

Famine Crisis In Kwangsi

CANTON, MAY 29. ACCORDING TO A LIUCHOW REPORT REACHING HERE, KWANGSI IS FULL OF STARVING PEOPLE WHO EAT ROOTS AND BARK, WHILE ONLY THE VERY RICH CAN AFFORD TO EAT TWO MEALS OF RICE BROTH EACH DAY.

RICE PRICES IN KWANGSI ROSE TO ABOUT $70,000 PER PICUL RECENTLY, WHICH IS CONSIDERED EXTREMELY HIGH IN THE FAMOUS RICE PRODUCING PROVINCE. THE FAMINE THERE HAS BEEN CAUSED BY TWO ADVERSE CIRCUMSTANCES, FIRST DROUGHT AND THEN TOO MUCH RAIN.

Conditions between Liuchow and Wuchow are deplorable as hungry people are seen lying along the roadsides while others desperately walk along. No one pays any attention to those starving on the roads. They have become too common a sight.

Human life has become more a burden than an asset to these people, who are more than willing to give their children away in the hopes that they can survive the famine with others who have more to offer than the parents' themselves. Girls in their teens are being given in marriage.

During the war, Kwangsi was at its height, prosperous and gay, with Kwailin one of the brightest and gayest in all Free China. Liuchow was the big business centre. During the latter stage of the war, both these cities were laid in ruins by the invading Japanese. There is little hope as yet that there can be an early rehabilitation.

Wuchow Better Conditions in Wuchow are slightly better than those other two cities and it stands an excellent chance of retaining its pre-war status as the richest and leading city in Kwangsi. Both Kwailin and Liuchow were fortunate during the war

STORY BEHIND SIAM "WAR"

Singapore, May 29.

Neither Saigon nor Bangkok has hinted at what motivated the alleged French violations of Siam's Mekong River frontier but sources familiar with the political situation say there are two possible explanations:

(1) The French authorities in Indo-China who have been long disturbed over the Siamese failure to return the Cambodian and Laotian territories ceded in 1941 under Japanese pressure are now giving military warning that Siam must speed up settlement or face consequences; and

(2) The French military crossed the border in an effort finally to crush a Laotian revolutionary movement. It was known that Laotian rebels had been taking refuge in Siam when threatened and returning to Laos as French operations slackened. Reliable sources said that the second possibility is most likely correct.

The Laotian movement is headed by Prince Pitsatharat, who seized control after the Japanese surrender. He swore to prevent the return of French control of Laos territory which before the war was a French protectorate paralleling Siam's eastern border for 700 miles. —Associated Press.

"Fiction"

Saigon, May 28. An official communique from the Headquarters in Saigon today described the reports of an attack by French troops on Siam territory as "pure fiction." —Reuter.

Appeal

London, May 29. Britain and America made early this month what they believed to be a successful appeal to France to prevent fighting on the Siam-Indochina frontier, a Foreign office spokesman said today.

The two governments, acting on a Siamese request, appealed separately to France, following the border incident on May 7. The French Foreign Minister, Mr. Georges Bidault, agreed that France would take steps to end the disturbances.

The Siamese government announced on Monday, however, that French troops invaded Siam territory on May 24.

No appeal has been made and the French Office spokesman said he understood that Siam planned to place the border issue before the United Nations Security Council, and that Britain would support the placing of the question on the agenda. —Associated Press.

SCAP NOT PLEASED

Tokyo, May 29. Despite the passage of a law April permitting the Japanese to appoint technically trained executives in government bureaus, the key lumber industry remains enmeshed because of the Japanese system of appointing career politicians to top posts. Officials of SCAP, Natural Resources section, in a blast at the Japanese ministry of agriculture and forestry, stated the recent lumber shortage could be relieved by appointment of technically trained men to oversee production. —Associated Press.

WAR NEUROSIS

Chicago, May 29. Brig. Gen. William C. Menninger, the Army's chief of psychiatry, told the American Psychiatric Association that neuro-psychiatric disorders have hospitalized approximately 850,000 world war I soldiers up to the first three years. He said 600,000 men were discharged from the army for "personality disturbances" and approximately 1,875,000 rejected for military service for the same reasons.

General Menninger said 60 per cent of the psychiatric casualties returned to duty within a few days after treatment in forward areas. —Associated Press.

No Evidence As To Theft

The case against Chong Sam, 37-year-old mistress of boat 119V, charged with larceny of 1,300 catties of rice from the ss. Samsurf was dismissed by Mr. W. H. Latimer at Kowloon Court yesterday. Mr. D. H. Blake had represented defendant, while Mr. R. S. Smith prosecuted for the Crown.

The Magistrate said there was no direct evidence as to theft though there was a sufficiency of presumptive evidence to justify a conclusion that there was a theft of rice from the ss. "Samsurf". There was evidence to show, Mr. Latimer said, that the Wang Kee Co., stevedores, had a tallyman on accused's boat during the unloading of rice from the "Samsurf" to the godown at West Point and that he remained on board continually throughout the unloading.

Though a witness had stated that he saw rice being unloaded from a small boat at night at the Mongkok Typhoon Shelter, no evidence was forthcoming that it was accused's boat from which the rice was being unloaded. There was the evidence of another witness that the accused had acknowledged selling rice to Lo Tai—10 bags at $90 a bag—which she denied. This statement, allegedly made in the presence of others, had not been corroborated.

The case ultimately resolved itself into a statement made by the accused when charged before a Police Sub-Inspector in which she admitted the charge of stealing. The defence had alleged that this confession was obtained under pressure. There was no evidence to corroborate accused's allegation that she had been struck two blows on the chest.

It was, however, not improbable that the Chinese detective was arrested accused, knowing that large amounts of rice were being daily smuggled out of the Colony, did as a zealous police officer endeavour by various means to induce the accused to admit the theft of the rice.

He was not satisfied, Mr. Latimer concluded, that the statement made by accused was obtained without some considerable persuasion. If he were satisfied that it was a free and voluntary statement, a conviction would be warranted. Without this, the charge must fail and accused was accordingly acquitted.

"HEMISPHERIC SOLIDARITY"

Washington, May 29. Admiral Nimitz and General Eisenhower today recommended a broad inter-American programme of "military cooperation." The programme would include the transfer of United States goods to other American nations.

Nimitz and Eisenhower said the programme would insure "hemispheric solidarity" and thus promote world peace. They urged the House Foreign Affairs committee to obtain early congressional approval of the desired legislation.

Under the legislation, the President could also agree to help train the fighting forces of other American nations and to repair their military equipment. The military chiefs said the initial plan is to develop each nation so that it can defend itself. Each would have standardized equipment. Thereafter, America would be prepared to act jointly in the event of war.

Some committee men feared the programme would cause European nations to enter on an armaments race with the United States.

Eisenhower and Nimitz expressed doubt, saying: "There will be no overall increase in the armaments strength of the western hemisphere." —Associated Press.

HOME RULE IN PACIFIC

Washington, May 29. Representative Andrew J. Biemiller, Democrat, introduced legislation today which would establish civil government and home rule in American island possessions.

The government would be transferred from the military to the Interior Department. When at least one fourth of the adult inhabitants voted for home rule, the Secretary of Interior must issue a self-government charter.

The Bill will involve islands like Guam and Samoa. It will include Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands which already are under civilian control. —Associated Press.

Tokyo, May 29. J. B. Pönnick, political advisor to the Netherlands military mission, has arrived from Australia. —Associated Press.

NAZI UNDERGROUND MOVE Large-Scale Round-Up Has Salutory Effect

TENSE SITUATION IN JAVA

Batavia, May 29. A tense situation exists in Soerakarta, central Java, where the followers of the local or dependent ruler, Mangkoenegara, have resisted with arms the attempt to limit his powers, according to an eye witness, who arrived here today.

It was stated that the attempt was made by Dr. Moewardi, leader of the local irregular army known as the "Buffaloes."

Dr. Moewardi, who is also well-known as the leader of the Indonesian Fighting Youth Organisation, had earlier succeeded in forcing another local ruler, Soeschoennan Pakoe Boewono, to surrender all his powers to Dr. Sutan Sjahrir's republican government.

He has now been arrested by the Republican military police, it was reported, for being "more republican than the Republicans." Mangkoenegara's followers, although not opposed to the Republic, were unwilling to accept any encroachment on their traditional ruler's powers. When Dr. Moewardi tried to usurp these, it is stated, they dug up arms buried after the Japanese surrender, and clashed with the "Buffaloes."—Reuter.

British Action

German Papers Disturbed

(By Lyford Moore, Reuters Correspondent.)

FRANKFURT, MAY 29. THE RECENT ROUNDUP BY AMERICAN AND BRITISH INTELLIGENCE OFFICERS OF HUNDREDS OF MEMBERS OF AN UNDERGROUND NAZI YOUTH MOVEMENT HAS PRODUCED ONE SALUTARY EFFECT IN ADDITION TO RIDDING THE ZONES OF A REAL MENACE.

GERMANY, FOLLOWING CONTINUED EDITORIAL REACTION TO THE MASS ARRESTS, HAS BEEN SHOCKED TO DISCOVER THAT DESTROYED AND SURRENDERED AS HER CITIES ARE, SUCH A MOVEMENT CAN STILL FLOURISH IN THEM.

Thoughtful Germans see this newest subversive movement in relation to their first-hand knowledge of the origins of Nazism. Among these, the raids will probably do more, by the situation they showed up, than any number of military mandates to keep postwar Germany moving along the lines laid down for her at Potsdam.

Editorials have uniformly reflected alarm on the part of German editors who warn their readers that growth of such an organisation as that which Allied intelligence smashed would completely destroy any hope for the future of Germany as a member of the society of nations.

"The Marburger Presse," for example, considered the formation of the group a "sin against the people" and expressed fears that these irresponsible and criminal groups might push Germany into the abyss.

"If the discovered plans had had only a small degree of success, that would mean the end," it commented. "No power on earth would be ready to help such a perverted people to find itself a second time. If the plan had become reality, Germany's population would have ceased to be a people which would have any right to exist in the world."

Iran Under Strong Soviet Pressure

Teheran, May 29.

The belief that the Iranian Government "is under strong Russian pressure" and is deliberately playing "a two-handed diplomatic game to prevent everything we own from falling into Soviet hands" was expressed yesterday by a powerful Left Wing statesman whose election to parliament is predicted by all factions.

AN ABSURD CHARGE

Teheran, May 28.

The report broadcast recently by the Tabriz Radio that British troops were still in Southern Iran was categorically denied by the Foreign Office today.

All British troops, it was stated, were withdrawn from Iran by March 2, 1946, the date by which they were due to be evacuated under the terms of the Tripartite Treaty of Alliance of 1942.

After the British evacuation of Iran negotiations were opened for the use of a radio station for commercial purposes by Cable and Wireless. These negotiations are still proceeding.

Since they are of purely commercial character and could not contravene the provisions of the United Nations Charter, the suggestion made on more than one occasion by Tabriz Radio that British interference in Iran should be brought to the attention of the Security Council are not taken seriously by official quarters in London.—Reuter.

Pepper For President?

Washington, May 29.
Big unions are boiling with wrath against President Harry Truman's oblique hints that he might switch his support to either Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace or Senator Clyde Pepper for the Presidency of the United States.

General opinion on Capitol Hill, however, appears to be that it is too early yet to tell whether the administration's handling of the strike emergency has ended the 13-year old Labour-Democrat coalition.

While speculation mounted, three of the nation's most powerful labour organizations kept up heavy drum-fire of criticism against President Truman's strike proposals.

Congress of Industrial Organizations' President Philip Murray said "in a moment of wild hysteria, an attempt is being made to stampee through Congress legislation which has as its sole aim the destruction of the labour movement of this nation."

Earlier in the day, American Federation of Labour's President William Green denounced President Truman's programme as advocating "slave labour under Fascism."

The CIO United Auto Workers also wired to Murray, urging that he take immediate steps for joint action by all organization leaders to defeat the proposals.

The National Farmer's Union assailed the programme as "naked, open Fascism," while the National Citizens' Political Action Committee also condemned it as "totalitarian." —Associated Press.

SAUCKEL'S STORY

Nuernberg, May 29.
Fritz Sauckel today blamed the German Military High Command for the mass recruitment of slave labour from the occupied east during his testimony before the Allied War Crimes Tribunal here. The former Nazi labour boss sought to defend his position in the recruiting campaign by contending that the workers were treated well under his administration.

The defendant acknowledged he was aware of the Buchenwald concentration camp in the political district he managed, but he insisted it was a well-run, orderly and humane place when he inspected it. He said the camp was established by Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler. "I never had anything to do with that camp," —Associated Press.

Britain Has Greatest Asset Of All

London, May 29.

The United States Ambassador to Britain, Mr. Averell Harriman, tonight paid this tribute to Britain: "Britain comes out of this war depleted in physical assets, but rich in human qualities—the greatest asset a nation can possess."

He was speaking at a dinner of the Pilgrims Society in the Savoy Hotel. This society has the object of fostering Anglo-American friendship and has a sister society in New York.

India Beats M.C.C. By Innings, 194 Runs

London, May 29.

India beat the M.C.C. by an innings and 194 runs in the closing hours of the last day of their match at Lords. India, who had the Englishmen on the run at the end of yesterday's play with three wickets down for 60 runs in their follow-on innings and still 239 runs behind clinched the game in little over an hour's play when it was resumed late: at 4.15 in the afternoon, owing to more rain. Mankad took seven M.C.C. wickets for 37.

Felt was rolled over the wicket during the day to help it dry out for the conclusion of the conclusion of the game but steaming off under not, brilliant sunshine which followed the downpour, it quickly proved as awkward for the batsmen as the day before.

Yardley (five not out) and Edrich (four not out) resumed for the M.C.C. against Armanath and Mankad.

With only 11 runs added to the slim total, Yardley was out, caught off the bowling of Armanath for nine. Four wickets for 71.

Two runs later Edrich rejoined Yardley in the pavilion. He was caught off Mankad for 12. Five for 73.

With both Edrich and Yardley gone so quickly, the M.C.C. now had little hope of saving the game.

Bartlett and Valentine took the score to 91 when Bartlett was caught off Armanath for eight.

Four runs later the seventh wicket went when Mankad clean bowled Valentine for 15 with the total now 95.

Mankad promptly bowled the next man, Marsham, without further score. Eight for 95. Mallett went at 99, stumped from Mankad's bowling for another duck and the last wicket fell at 105 when Davies was caught off Armanath for eight.

Scores:
India—488.
M.C.C.—139 and 105.

County Cricket

London, May 28.
Rain prevented play in several county cricket games in different parts of the country today.

Mr. Harriman declared, "I have confidence in Britain of future development of full life for people on this small but great island—an important role that she will play in the development of a just world. Britain is strong, too, in its unique association with the Dominions and its forward-looking attitude towards the Empire."

He paid a tribute to Lord Halifax, retiring British envoy to the United States, who, he said, had been a strong force in the development of unity during the war and of plans for the future. His forthright character had made a deep impression in the United States.

Mr. Harriman went on to say that the United States had its own problems of reconstruction and adjustment. "But out of the war there has come certain new concepts accepted by the majority of people, which will have a dynamic effect in shaping the post-war world. Of great importance is that they are determined that our affairs should be handled so that a high and sustained level of employment shall be maintained. "The effect of full employment in the United States will mean tremendous production; this will have a far-reaching effect not only in raising the standard of living in the United States but, I believe, in all parts of the world. "It is of supreme importance in connection with this objective of full employment that we realise that we cannot have prosperity by isolationism. We cannot have prosperity unless there is expanding economy the world over." —Reuter.

DEATH RAYS

New York, May 29.

A report given by the chairman of the federation of atomic scientists, Mr. W. A. Higginbottom, today detailed the effects of one small drop of atomic poison gas in liquid form as follows:

It could endanger every person in a great industrial plant. A combustion of this so called gas could kill every person within a one-kilometre radius, not by chemical reaction but by radio-active rays from atomic fission products.

There are no important secrets about atomic poison gas.

The use of the death ray was predicted in a report to President Roosevelt by Dr. Leo Szilard whose death rays were neutrons.

These particles can not only kill a person but transmute chemicals of the human body into temporarily radio-active atoms that may cause death. The gas is emitted by great structures called piles which are used in the atomic process. Transporting a pile to enemy territory would be like moving an Egyptian pyramid. —Associated Press.

NEW KIND OF TOTE

London, May 29.

A tote which pays out in national savings certificates has been established for the benefit of soldier punters at an army race-course in the British zone of Austria, says the British Control Commission for Germany.

Hitherto, soldiers have had difficulty in converting large sums of money won at army race meetings because they had been unable to certify that they had been obtained from the tote.

Now, if they wish, they may ask for the winnings in savings certificates or cards stamped with the appropriate amount.

The scheme is a boon to the men who find themselves with large amounts they can neither spend in Austria nor bring home when they come on leave. —Reuter.

National Referendum In Poland

WARSAW, MAY 29.

ELEVEN MILLION POLES ARE EXPECTED TO VOTE IN THE NATIONAL REFERENDUM ON JUNE 30.

THE PRINCIPAL ISSUES ARE THESE:

1. Whether Poland shall have a one or a two house parliament, members of which will be elected later.
2. Whether Poles approve of the nationalisation of industries and the land reforms which broke up the big estates and parcelled them out to the peasants.
3. Whether they approve of the establishment of Poland's western frontiers along the Baltic, the Oder and Neisse rivers.

The Polish Warsaw regime, whose most powerful posts are in the hands of the Communist-backed Polish Workers' Party, and its close ally, the Polish Socialist Party, is proceeding meanwhile with the dissolution of Vice-Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk's Polish Peasant Party.

These two parties claim that Mikolajczyk's organisation is, in many sectors, too heavy with "anti-democratic" and pro-Fascist elements. Mikolajczyk and his party chieftains have protested that secret police raids against their district headquarters are a violation of the Moscow agreement setting up the provisional regime and granting equal rights to the six political parties. The Polish Peasant Party has disclaimed any links with terroristic bands such as the NSZ (national armed forces).

Continuance of the secret police campaign brings Poland closer to civil war, officials of the Polish Peasants' Party have warned. They were joined in that view recently by Karol Popiel, President of the Labour Party, which generally has stood by the Mikolajczyk organisation on most controversial issues.

Against Mikolajczyk and his friends are arrayed the Socialist, the Democratic Party and an independent organisation known simply as the Peasant Party, which has no connection with Mikolajczyk's Party.

All of the four latter parties favour a single election bloc for the general elections, under which the representation of political parties in the new, permanent Parliament would be agreed upon in advance. —Associated Press.

Gouged Out Eyes Of Live G.I.s.

Dachau, May 29.

Nazi S.S. men gouged out the eyes of living American soldiers as they lay wounded on the muddy field of massacre during the Battle of the Bulge, an American army report revealed today.

The Inspector-General's report was read at the trial of 74 Nazi elite guards accused of slaying unarmed American war prisoners. The report said that in at least three cases the eyes of wounded Americans had been whipped from their faces with sharp instruments. The atrocity was discovered after American forces thawed out the frozen bodies of the 71 defenceless Americans killed a month before. —Associated Press.

He estimated the cost at $5,000,000 sterling. In Paris he will seek to collect repayments set aside from funds of former enemy countries for the Jewish people. —Associated Press.

St. Dunstons To Be Independent

London, May 29.

Sir Ian Fraser, blind Member of Parliament, told blind ex-servicemen of St. Dunstan's that the home will not become a state institution under the Government's health scheme. He was re-opening St. Dunstan's home at Ovingdean, Brighton, after its wartime evacuation.

"I have been assured that St. Dunstan's is not going to be nationalised," he said. "It is going to remain its old independent self."

Sir Ian said that many ex-prisoners who had returned from the Far East blind or partly blind through diet deficiency would regain their sight. —Reuter.
